

PHP AGENCY OPENS “NEW FORCE AWAKENS” 2017 NATIONAL CONVENTION IN LAS VEGAS

IT’S SOLD OUT!

August 17, 2017 (DALLAS) PHP Agency Inc. (“PHP”), one of the fastest growing financial marketing organizations in the US, announced today the grand opening of the company’s annual “Big Event” National Convention at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas, Nevada.

The three-day event will feature a full slate of activity specifically focused on making PHP’s agents a success. The program includes educational sessions, team building, life insurance product education and a special awards gala event where PHP’s best and brightest agents will be honored for their sales production and business success.

Patrick Bet-David, Founder and CEO of PHP Agency Inc., said, “I am thrilled by the enthusiasm generated by PHPs army of field agents going into this year’s event. This is the largest, most well-attended, National Convention in history. I have been saying that at every convention for over 5 years and never get tired of it!”

About PHP Agency

PHP Agency is a financial marketing organization company with a two-part vision: change the culture and diversity of the insurance industry and build the world’s largest financial services marketing company in history. To realize this vision, PHP has partnered with some of the world’s leading insurance carriers to offer clients personally suitable life insurance and annuity products and; provides a part-time or full-time career opportunity to those wishing to pursue a career as life insurance agents. The company’s agents operate from their individually owned and operated offices located across the nation. The company is privately held and is headquartered in Dallas, TX.
